DECLASSIFIED

SUNDAY
DECEMBER 27, 1953

We shot again today, commencing with a duck drive in which we killed 14 mallards. All of his game birds were presented in a most sporting fashion, flying high and fast. Another fox was killed today but not by me. The bag was over 200 pieces. Another beautiful day, almost like Indian Summer.

I left at 6:15 and was home at 8:30.
